Bold Robbers Crack Register; Captured Later

Two men walked into the Elcazar Restaurant on Highway 90 yesterday afternoon and started a conversation with the owner James E. Hartzog.

After nearly an hour had passed and the men had told Hartzog that they were from Texas and owned a large ranch down there, the owner walked outside to wait on a customer.

When he came back into the building he noticed the two men in their car and driving off. Then he turned and saw the cash register was open and its contents, $17.00 was missing.

Hartzog immediately phoned Sheriff John Egloff, who in turn placed a call to the New Orleans Police, to be on the lookout.

Then four local police officials, Sheriff Egloff, Chief Deputy Sam Peterson and Deputy Gerald Favre and John Kachler set out to search for the two men.

Shortly after this Sheriff Egloff received a call from the New Orleans police, who told him they had captured the bold pair.

The four members of the Sheriff's office circled back and picked up Hartzog and proceeded to New Orleans where the restaurant proprietor identified the two men, who were being held, as those who had robbed his register.

Identification papers showed that the men were Robert Castings of Chalmette, La., and William Ferree of Pennsylvania.

As soon as Hartzog walked into the precinct office, Ferree, who had told the cafe owner that he owned a stable of horses, and that he would send him one, looked up and said, "Well Pop it looks you won't get your horse after all. In fact I don't even own any horses."

The two are being held in New Orleans for investigation. The Crescent City police are checking to see whether they are wanted anywhere else, before they turn them over to Hancock County officials to be tried for this robbery.

Warren Carver, Bea Georgi Announce

Two more political announcements were added to this summer's campaign list for local voters this week—one for Justice of the Peace and one for Clerk of Court.

Warren Carver, who is a member of the firm of Monti-Carver here, is running for Clerk of Court, the position now held by A. C. Mitchell.

Carver is a former mayor of Bay St. Louis and has served as chief deputy clerk of court and as a field auditor in the state department of audit.

"I strictly promise that if elected I shall continue my attempts to obtain a payroll for the people of this county. We are definitely in need of something to provide steady employment for our people," he said. Mrs. Bea Georgi, Waveland businesswoman, is in the race for Justice of the Peace of Beat Five.

In her announcement she said she was most interested in the welfare of young people.

"I am an independent candidate and not controlled by any other political factor," she declared, "and if elected I shall be an independent judge and my decisions shall be unbiased and without prejudice."

TWO TELEPHONE CABLES CUT IN HANCOCK COUNTY THIS WEEK

Three vital telephone cable were cut this week in Hancock County and both long distance and local service in some parts of the county was out for a number of hours.

The first cable was cut near Pearlington when it was shot full of buckshot, disrupting all long distance calls from New Orleans to the Gulf Coast.

Then early Wednesday morning, a second cable, this one located on North Beach in Waveland, was cut with some sharp instrument.

Some 97 telephones in the Waveland area were without service for a whole day because of the defected cable.

The third cable was cut on the beach near Nicholson Ave., at about 12 o'clock Wednesday. This incident put about 400 phones out of order.

W.H. Swelly, supervisor of the repair crew in Bay St. Louis said, "This is the third case of this sort that we have encountered. We have had others but those cables may have been for long distance calls. There have been three cables cut, which have knocked out local service until they could be repaired."

He continued, "Sunday we had to make arrangements to give the fire department special service because one of the cables cut involved its phone."

In a statement released by J. C. Dabney, manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company of the Gulf Coast, telephone company officials said, "It has become increasingly clear to the public, and it must now be clear to those still on strike, why an uninterrupted service clause is essential to the new contract."

"Telephone people belong on the job fulfilling the trust placed in them by the public, and we believe most of them take this responsibility seriously and would like to be back."

The Rains Came -- And Came

The old gray bonnet was the order of the day for Easter here, what with the only rain in the country showing up to douse the holiday weekenders.

Actually, the downpour took on some truly gruesome aspects, as in places like Rotten Bayou and the Fenton Community, homes and camps were completely flooded.

One of the worst hit of the flooded residences was the P. E. Porter country home on Rotten Bayou, where the water reached a depth of four feet in the house, destroyed a wharf, and ruined motors, air conditioning, a jeep and a deep freeze and much other property. Due to the continued rain, the Porters said they have been unable to get into the house to estimate the total damage.

Other hard-hit areas reported were the Chadwick residence, the Jordan River boys Camp and more.

Here in the city, citizens tucked away their spring finery and got out their raincoats to attend church services. The children either had to forego Easter Egg hunts or receive their goodies at parties inside a dry four walls.

Plumbers reported hundreds of calls from residents who were inconvenienced by overflowing drains. The dishes piled high after company dinners while helpless housewives waited for the watersoaked soil to absorb some of the moisture.

The next on the list of wrecks happened about two hours later when one of the visiting Easter Bunnies, Alice Miller of New Orleans, was passing a long line of cars.

She was not able to get back in the line in time and crashed into Harry Johnson of Angle, La., who couldn't leave the road far enough to avoid the crash.

The Louisiana student was driving a 1952 Ford, which received nearly $350 of damage. Johnson's car, a 1953 Chevrolet, was damaged to the extent of about $300.

The third wreck took place in front of the Truck Town Cafe on Highway 90 at 10:30 p. m.

Harry Young of Bay St. Louis, driving a 1948 Chevrolet, pulled in front of a Greyhound cruising bus, and was unable to get out of the way in time to avoid a collision.

No one was injured but the car was slightly damaged.

The last wreck occurred Sunday evening at 5 o'clock in front of the Highway Drive In Theatre.

Rudy Morel, driving a 1951 Buick lost control of his car, turned end over end and crashed into the neon sign in front of the Theatre.

Morel stated that the accelerator on his car had stuck and that he had lost control.

The car was a total loss and the neon sign was completely smashed on one side. The damage to the sign has been estimated at $2500.

Kenny was assisted by Patrolman Marion Cruthird.

INVESTIGATES WRECKED CAR—Chief Deputy Sheriff Sam Peterson is shown as he investigates the wrecked car belonging to Dr. Walter Hava of Waveland. The vehicle, which was driven by Dr. Hava's brother Clarence, at the time of the accident was completely wrecked from the front to the dash board. The driver was not injured and walked from the car.

A special election has been called for May 10 to replace Supervisor Joe Jones, but indications are there will be only one candidate—his wife.

Jones 66, serving his second term as a member of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, died at 2 a. m. Saturday in Meridian, Miss. He was buried Sunday in Turtleskin cemetery.

That left his seat as Beat One Supervisor vacant.

Under the law, a special election must be called to replace him from now until his term expires in January.

But a movement was afoot in Pearlington to let his widow be the only candidate. The point is to let her have the salary he would have drawn for the remainder of his term.

This is a frequent and accepted procedure when an office holder dies with only a few months remaining in his term.

One candidate for the supervisor's job in the coming primary, Charles A. Russ, Jr., suggested, however, that all candidates run—but give the salary they draw to Mrs. Jones.

In this way Beat One would have a duly elected supervisor, yet, at the same time, Mrs. Jones would get the salary her husband would otherwise have drawn.

Candidates must file a petition, signed by 50 qualified electors, before April 23 in order to qualify for the election.

Russ' statement:

To the Voters of Beat No. 1:

"As all of you know I am a candidate for the office of Supervisor Beat No. 1 in the coming election.

"Because of the will of God I find myself facing a situation, which comes rarely, to anyone seeking public office. It is the death of my friend and supervisor Mr. Joseph C. Jones. According to law, as I understand it, the death of Mr. Jones makes it necessary for the Board of Supervisors to call a special election, which they have done, and which will be held in thirty days.

"I have just learned that the other candidates for this office have agreed that in sympathy with Mr. Jones' widow, they would stay out of this special election and let her become elected to Mr. Jones' vacancy which will run to January 1st, 1956. This, of course, is very nice and while I was not contacted until after the agreement had been reached, I too, am in sympathy with Mrs. Jones.

"If all of the candidates who who intend to participate in the coming election are sincere in their intentions to help Mrs. Jones why not all of us run the special election according to law and let the winner turn over the salary of the office for the duration of Mr. Jones' term to her. This would mean that she would receive the salary from the time the winner take office to January 1st, 1956. This would also eliminate all of the responsibilities of the office and the unpleasant situations which go with a political position.

Chas. A. Russ, Jr. Jones had lived in Hancock County all of his life. He served for many years as a deputy sheriff, and he served the county as Sheriff from 1928 to 1932.

This was his second term on the Board of Supervisors. He entered Johnson Sanatorium in Meridian last Tuesday, and died of a heart attack at 2 a. m. Saturday.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by eight children, 25 grand children and five great grandchildren. His children are Mrs. Joe Miller of Houston, Tex., Mrs. William Hursey of Pearlington, Mrs. Earl Miller of Mobile, Mrs. Charles Wilson of Baton Rouge, Mrs. Marshall Osborne of New Orleans, Mrs. Ibra Jones of Gainesville, Miss., and Lloyd and Louis Jones, also of Gainesville.

His brothers and sisters are Mrs. Dot Blackmon and Mrs. Stanley Strahan of Logansport, Mrs. Lemuel Miller of Gulfport, Pearlington, Talmon Jones of Pearlington, Johnnie Jones of Logansport, Albert Jones of Panama Canal Zone and Herman Jones of Logansport.

Sportsweek

By GREGORY FAVRE

(Editor's Note—this is the first of a series of articles on the sport of boxing in Bay St. Louis in yesteryear, when this town was one of the top centers for the sport in the country.)

At most of the fights in New Orleans you can look around the arena and find a group of Bay St. Louis people gathered together to watch with keen interest the fistfists that are going on in the square ring.

In this group if you look closer you will find Sidney Manieri, an old timer in the boxing game. A man who has perhaps seen more boxing matches, without the aid of the television screen, than any man in this vicinity.

For Sidney Manieri was once a trainer, second and manager of a number of classy boxers, who made a name for themselves when the game was full of boys with hard heads and empty stomachs. When a boy fought for his living. When men had the stamina, the endurance and the strength to fight for 20 rounds if necessary.

Yes, these were the days when Sidney Manieri broke into the grand sport of boxing and now today he can sit and reminisce about those years and the men who walked across his path in the world of boxing.

Mr. Sidney first became connected with the sport through his father, "Dad" Manieri, a fight manager well known throughout the land in those days.

The young Manieri took a quick liking to the sport and began to look around for some fighters of his own.

One of the first fighters to catch his eye was Saunter Lolacano, a teen ager, who was big and packed quite a punch.

When he first saw Saunter fight Mr. Sidney said, "He was big and flabby but he had plenty of stamina. He got beat the night I saw him and he lost the next time I had a chance to look at him. But I told my daddy that I wanted that boy and all I got for the statement was a good razzing."

"None could figure out just what I saw in the boy. But as my daddy always told me, to be a good fighter you have to have stamina and guts. He surely had the stamina and I believed he had guts."

He continued, "So one day as I was driving my ice cream truck down the street Saunter stopped me and asked me if I could line him up a fight. I told him to go to my house and watch the rest of my boxers work out. Not to do anything but shadow box a little and skip the rope."

"Well I kept him doing this for a good while and then I started him in training. This boy loved the sport. He wanted to fight and he was good. A beautiful boxer."

Explaining with the use of his hands Mr. Sidney went on, "Saunter defeated Buster Mallin, Little Boy Peterson and all of the top notchers in New Orleans. There wasn't anybody around here who could handle him and he was only a kid of 16."

But then tragedy struck and Saunter Lolacano, the Walloping Wop, as he was known to his fans, died of an attack of yellow fever.

With red eyes Mr. Sidney said, "There is no telling how good he could have been. The boy had just started fighting. I know one thing he was the classiest and one of the most beautiful fighters I ever handled."

"Next week Mr. Sidney goes on to tell of the best fight of his brother Russell's career and some of the things he knew of Jack Dempsey."

With the rains of the past week Jordan River and all local bayous resemble the Mississippi River with its rushing tide, trees, stumps and other debris being carried out to the Gulf. Fishing goes with it. No reports of any fishing the past weekend.

Cary Middlecoff wasn't "playing a round" when he won the Masters Tournament last week. He was 7 over his nearest opponent, Ben Hogan at the end. Local golf fans saw him play at Baton Rouge recently. He's a real golfer.

Local sailors have been busy for the past two weekends over hauling the boats at the Bay. Waveland Yacht Club—getting ready for a busy summer season.

Turkey season lasted only ten days this year. Local turkey hunters are scarce around these parts. Reports are that a few birds were killed. More on this later.

TENSION MOUNTS AS LADNER JUMPS—Louis Ladner strains his muscles as he clears the bar to win the high jump event in a recently held track meet. Spectators watching seem to be sharing the strain with Ladner. He will be one of the top men in Stanislaus' bid for the District Crown Friday.

Bay Hi, Stanislaus Enter Full Crews In District Track Meet

St. Stanislaus and Bay High will field a full crew in their attempts to win the District Track Crown in Biloxi Friday night.

Stanislaus, fresh from a narrow loss to last year's title holder, Biloxi High School, is counting on its big men, Alfonso Vasquez, Louis Ladner, Tommy Monti and James Schexnayder to bring home the bacon.

These boys form the nucleus of the Rockchaws cinder team. Vasquez is the sprint man and was very impressive in the Biloxi dual meet. He defeated the Biloxi dual sprinter, Bond, in the 100 yard dash and lost in the 220 yard dash to the same boy by less than a foot.

Ladner is the jumper of the Rocks. He is expected to gain some points for his team in the high jump and pole vault events.

Monti is the distance man and has been on the upgrade in every meet. Last week in Biloxi he ran the mile in just a fraction over five minutes and mowed down his opposition in the 880 yard run with a clocking of two minutes and 12 seconds.

Canada, Mexico and the United States will meet in New Orleans April 24-27 to discuss problems of their industry as the National Fisheries Institute holds its 10th annual convention.

Representatives of the fishing industry will hold their three-day meeting at the Roosevelt Hotel. They will study ways to increase consumption of fish and methods of packaging and fishery by-products.

Tammy Monti, 8 Relay Team Set Stanislaus Record

The Stanislaus Rockchaws set two modern day records even though they fell victim to the ever powerful Biloxi High School Track team in a dual meet last week. The Indians from Harrison County edged the local school 61½ to 59½.

Young Tommy Monti was the first to shatter one of these modern records. He galloped home in the mile run, a comfortable margin ahead of his opponents, in the fine time of 5:00.3.

Monti, who is enjoying his first year of track experience also won the 880 yard run for grueling test was 2:12.7.

The second record to fall before the Rockchaws' thinclads, was the 880 yard relay race.

The Stanislaus team, composed of Jimmy Grace, Larry Russell, Bob Pfeuger and Alfonso Adape, was clocked at 1:37.9 for the distance.

The 100 yard and 220 yard dashes had the spectators biting their fingernails throughout the contest as Alfonso, Vasquez and Ronald Bond, faced each other in what was billed as a preview of the sprints of the District meet this weekend. These two boys, Vasquez of Stanislaus and Bond of Biloxi are classed as the two top sprinters on the Coast.

In the dual meet Vasquez captured the 100 yard dash in the time of :10.3 just a step or so ahead of Bond. In the 220 the finish was exactly the opposite. Bond crossed the finish line just a shade in front of Vasquez. The time for the 220 was :23.3. Louis Ladner of Waveland won the high jump for the Rockchaws and finished second in the pole vault.

In the last event of the day, the broad jump, Stanislaus needed a first and second place finish to hand Biloxi its first dual meet defeat in two years. But all the Rockchaws managed to gain was a second and third place finish which left them shy of victory.

BEA GEORGI ENTERS JUSTICE OF THE PEACE RACE

To the People of Beat Five:

Please accept this announcement as my formal and official entrance in the race for Justice of the Peace of Beat Five in the August Democratic Primary.

First let me ask you this question. Are you interested in the welfare of your boys and girls? Certainly you are, and you know a woman is most interested in the welfare of the young people.

We never know when our boys and girls may get into trouble, perhaps through no fault of their own, but in that event wouldn't it be more satisfying to have them appear before a woman Judge, whose prime and most important interest would be in their welfare.

In the coming primary you will have the opportunity to elect two Justices of the Peace and I firmly believe that a woman should be elected to fill one of these positions. Because this office and only this office, is one in which a woman can do much good and render a service to the people of Beat Five.

I promise, if elected to serve as one of your Justices of the Peace, to exert every influence to make Better Citizens of any young people who come into my court.

I also pledge to you the residents of our fine communities, that I shall leave the doors of my court room open during any trial.

My verdict is earned by my date and not by other political considerations. I shall be unbiased and everyone shall be treated as equals.

I give my word to perform my duty in the title of Justice of the Peace.

Sincerely,

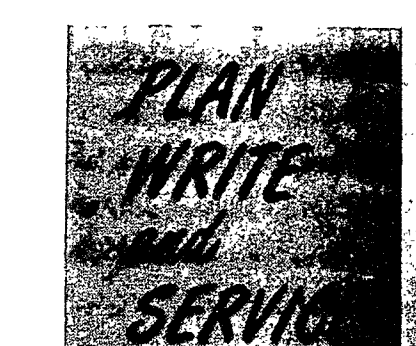

W. A. McDONALD

WARREN CARVER ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR CLERK

Qualified Electors of Hancock County, Miss.:
I like to take this means of getting to you my candidacy for the office of Clerk of Hancock County. The following record of qualifications and experience for your careful consideration:
High school education was completed at St. Stanislaus in 1935. From that time until 1935 I was in the office of Hancock County as Chief Deputy Clerk. This gave me a knowledge of the affairs of this office and my service during those six years are known to the majority of voters in the County.
In 1935 until 1942 I was employed as field auditor in the Department of Audit in the State of Mississippi. The experience in that position gave me a thorough insight into the office of the Clerk and of the Supervisors through the State.
In 1942 until 1945 I served in the United States Army in the European Theatre of Operations and was granted an honorable discharge.
I entered private business in Bay St. Louis and remained in that capacity until when I was elected Mayor of Hancock County. At the expiration of my term in 1953 I did not offer for re-election and again entered the field of business.
The office of Clerk of Courts is strictly an administrative office. If elected I will make every effort to conduct the affairs of this office to the best of my ability and will try in every way to cooperate with the Board of Supervisors for the continued development of Hancock County.

During my term as mayor of Bay St. Louis I tried in every way possible to obtain a much needed payroll for the community. I strictly promise that if elected I shall continue my attempts to obtain a payroll for the people in this county. We are definitely in need of something to provide steady employment for our people.

With deep appreciation of any consideration you may see fit to give me in my attempt to gain election to the office of Clerk of Courts, I am,
Very respectfully yours,
Warren Carver.

y Sets the Style For New Swimsuits

English—or American Indian, we're all going to see these days and the new Jantzen swimwear shows the influence.

The Seuzeneau, blonde daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Seuzeneau is shown looking particularly well in a white cotton printed with straw. The shirred back gives this suit its trim and svelte Jeanette Monti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Monti, is wearing a suit with splash of yellow on a white background. The solid sea blue suit worn by Doodie, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. John Seafide, has adjustable straps, as do most of the Jantzen suits.

In addition to these styles, there are others—a two-piece romper style and a world of varied with excellent boning for figure shaping and panels in just the right places.

No Excuse Now

The untimely death of Joe Jones has given this county a sad chore - that of replacing him for the remainder of his term on the Board of Supervisors.

This requires a special election, which will be held in May. And that brings up the question of the hospital.

Up to now, the Hancock County board has refused to call an election on the subject of a county-built hospital.

The reason the board said was money. Elections cost money.

Well now, through an unfortunate event, we must have an election anyway. It will not cost any more to add the second question of the hospital onto the ballot.

As a matter of fact, should the election commissioners ask the Sea Coast Echo to print the ballots, we will add the second part - the part about the hospital - onto the ballot FOR FREE.

No, gentlemen, there is no excuse now. Elections cost money. But we must have an election anyway. So why not let the people decide what kind of hospital they want and whether they wish to issue bonds.

How about it?

Who Will He Love Most?

Flelding Wright is the "big money" candidate for governor this year.

A while back 100 men said they would put up $1000 each to his campaign fund.

That's a total of $100,000.

The governor's salary is $15,000 a year. He serves four years.

That's a total of $60,000.

So, on one hand, Wright will be obligated to 100 men who gave him $100,000 and on the other hand he will be obligated to the rest of us - the voters and taxpayers of Mississippi - for only $60,000.

Whose interests will he protect?

Not Among the Fools

Walter James Phillips, Hancock County's representative in the Mississippi House of Representatives, was NOT among the dopes who voted to censure Pulitzer Prize Winner Hodding Carter.

Phillips was among the 19 men with integrity - those who wouldn't go along on a cheap grandstand play for the benefit for their less intelligent constituents. On this issue your representative has served you honestly and well. It's something to be proud of.

Money For Cities

Jackson County's Board of Supervisors knows that cities pay a chunk of money to maintain streets, yet get no cut of the gasoline tax money.

So it does something about it.

It pays Pascagoula $12,000, Ocean Springs $6000 and Moss Point $9600 a year to help do the job.

This is intelligent and unselfish thinking.

Why can't our Board pay Waveland and Bay St. Louis a cut of the gas money? People who ride the streets of these towns pay a large share of these gas taxes.

It's something for our Board to think about.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Don't be surprised to hear from me. I have been wanting to write to your paper for some time. So I finally got around to doing it. Well there isn't too much new up here in the Territory to Alaska. We have had quite a lot of snow and ice here this past winter. In fact the snow fall broke all records here this year. The temperature has been ranging from 45 degrees above to 35 below zero.
Although I do have to say the winter was very nice at that.
So much for Alaska. Now I would like to put in a plug for Bay St. Louis and some few of our Hancock County politicians, located down there. Believe me I won't be a bit surprised to learn from your paper how easily a few simple minded men could let the people of our county down. Also to let a deal such as the Federal hospital slip right through their fingers. I have been following your editorials about the hospital and its fight for survival. It seems to me that the taxpayers would come forth to fight for a thing that they need and the county needs as badly as a hospital that is equipped well enough to handle their county. Why don't they call the thing to a public election and let the people decide on it?
I would like to take the pleasure of thanking the American Legion and all of its members who have been trying so hard to get this hospital to the county. Also in their help in getting and securing the National Guard Unit in the town of Bay St. Louis. I am sure they are a lot of ex-servicemen who will appreciate that move.
I will close now saying thanks again for your paper which I receive weekly free of charge.
It is greatly appreciated.
Your truly,
Floyd S. Lafontaine

County Agent Notes

The rough-headed corn stalk beetle (sugar cane beetle) does a lot of damage every year to young corn. This is especially true where poorly drained sod land was broken and planted to corn.

The adult beetles, usually around a half inch long and black in color, bore into the outer wall of the stalk just below the surface of the ground. They make a large ragged opening and destroy the tender growing point or bud. Withering of the central roll of leaves indicates the beetle's presence. The bud soon dies and can easily be pulled out.

As corn stalk beetles mate underground, often many beetles can be found around one plant.

Controls. Late summer plowing, crop rotation, hogging off area or early planting have been the general recommendations.

Some research conducted in Alabama by Dr. W. G. Edens of Auburn, showed that best results were had from using aldrin, one pound technical material per acre either as a spray or granular.

The row was sprayed in an 8-inch band immediately after planting. The granular material was also applied after planting.

For the spray treatment, one half gallon of two pound aldrin emulsifiable concentrate was mixed with enough water to cover the area. The 25 percent granular aldrin can be applied by hand, by an old time fertilizer horn, hand cranked duster or cotton duster. Apply four pounds per acre.

This is not a definite recommendation, but is offered as a suggested control method in case the corn stalk beetle causes damage. Where aldrin is not available, dieldrin or neptachlor at the one pound rate may be tried.

Mulching, a valuable aid in home gardening, is also highly useful in putting protective covers on eroded land. A mulch cover protects the spot from further erosion while seed and

Seals Visits Tokyo

Cpl. Earl R. Seals, 22, son of Mrs. Etta Seals, 811 Falkline Road, Picayune, recently spent a week's leave in Tokyo from his unit in Korea.

Cpl. Seals, a clothing repairer in the 508th Quartermaster Company, entered the Army in September 1953 and received basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Seals, who arrived overseas in June 1954, attended Pearl River Junior College before entering the Army.

fertilizer are doing the repair work.

Mulches of damaged hay, straw, pine branches, or other protective methods are not expensive and are easy to use. By preventing washing of the soil, they hold cover crop seed and fertilizers in place.

Mulches also give young plants a boost by holding moisture and by shielding them from the drying effects of sun and wind.

ELECTRIC SAFETY

Doing two jobs at once often saves time and money. However, when electricity is involved never have both hands doing different jobs at the same time. When handling any electrical appliance or changing a fuse, never touch anything else. There is less danger of severe shock if one hand is free and not touching anything else.

Remember that electricity can be one of the best helpers you have on the farm and in your home. But it has to be treated with respect, or it can be the bringer of tragedy.

Never turn on lights, radio are any electrical appliance when in the bathtub, when holding onto a water pipe or when standing on wet floors.

CUT DAIRY COSTS

The best way for a dairyman to increase his net income is to reduce his feed costs. Labor, housing and other costs remain about the same whether the cow produces 3,000 pounds of milk or 10,000 pounds. The big difference is in feed costs.

"High producing cows help keep down feed costs because they produce milk at a lower per unit feed cost."

Dairymen should plan to make roughage and grazing a large part of their feed program. These feeds are much cheaper than bought feed.

WOODIE ASSAF, popular radio star of WJDX says, "My wife has always used light Karo for cooking... and on the table—it's dark Karo for me, the best-tasting eating syrup of 'em all!"

Yes, indeed...biscuits go like hot cakes when you pour on plenty of delicious dark Karo... there's nothing like it for good eating. Satisfying flavor. So rich it stands right up on top of biscuits (keeps 'em light and fluffy). Keep Karo on your table morning, noon and night...it tops anything!
